S.S.F. CASE SOLVED

Four Seized In Theft of Gold Anodes

Four men were arrested last week in connection with the theft of $49,000 in gold from a South San Francisco firm August 12.

Two of the suspects were seized by Marin County sheriff's deputies, FBI agents and Santa Rosa police in a raid at one suspect's home in Santa Rosa. The others were arrested later.

The suspects are Paul Philipp Eipp, 38, of Rohnert Park, scene of the raid; Emilio Paul Paoletti, 59, of San Francisco; Arthur C. Cornuelle, 44, of San Anselmo and Guido G. Mastronardi, 35, of Santa Monica, a former employe of Wildberg Brothers Refinery of South San Francisco, scene of the gold robbery.

The four suspects were to appear yesterday morning before Judge F. J. DeLarios.

South San Francisco Police Chief John Fabbri said about $15,000 had been recovered by authorities.

The gold was allegedly stolen from a vat of acid at Wildberg Brothers refinery, 349 Oyster Point Road, in South San Francisco. Thieves had tunneled under a high security fence.

The thieves had lifted golden "anodes" from

THREE COUNTY AREAS MAY BE FIRST

New Board May End Unity Deadlocks

THREE SAN MATEO County school district unification proposals likely will be among the first in the state to come under the provisions of new state legislation that takes effect September 17.

The legislation, AB 782, takes over in cases where progress toward unification gets stuck on dead center, as in the San Mateo, Sequoia and Jefferson High School District areas of San Mateo County.

The bill provides that, upon the seocnd rejection of a unification proposal by the State Board of Education, an impasse will be declared and a special review board will be appointed.

The review board would measure the rejected plan against an alternate plan submitted by the state board, and choose between them. The plan thus chosen would then be submitted to the voters of the affected area.

DEPUTY DISTRICT Attorney Lois Scampini told the County Committee on School District Organization last week that past rejections of the proposals for the San Mateo County districts would count for the purposes of the legislation.

The committee's proposals to form a total of five unified districts out of the area of the San Mateo and Sequoia High School District areas have been turned down twice by the state board.

A split-district plan for the Jefferson area has been rejected once. In each case, members of the state board have stated that they will approve no proposals for unified districts smaller than the existing high school districts.

A THREE-DISTRICT proposal for the Sequoia area, approved recently by the county group for the third time, is expected to be considered by the state board at its October 14-15 meeting in San Francisco and will undoubtedly be rejected for the third time.

Appointment of the special review board would then follow, provided that attorneys for the state agree with Miss Scampini's interpretation of the new law.

A. H. Glantz, secretary of the county committee, pointed out that the state will proceed according to the advice of its own counsel.

A two-district unification plan for the San Mateo area is expected to be approved by the local group following a public hearing in Burlingame September 23.

The identical proposal has also been turned down twice by the state, which may get it for the third time at its meeting in November.

A split-district plan for Jefferson, rejected once, is expected to be submitted again following a public hearing at 8 p.m. September 21 in Fairmont School in Pacifica and could be considered by the state board in November.

3 Districts To Receive Extra Funds

Aid Is Called Carrot on A Stick

San Mateo County's three unified school districts will get a total of more than $200,000 extra from the state this year by reason of their unification, County Superintendent of Schools James R. Tormey said last week.

The money may be used, Tormey pointed out, to offset property taxes or improve education, in the discretion of the district trustees.

The State Legislature last year provided bonus funds for districts which are unified or which voted to unify.

Thus, an area within a proposed unified district that was voted down would qualify for the bonus money if that area voted for approval. Tormey called this a "carrot on a stick" provided in the legislation

Tormey has criticized the San Mateo County Committee on School District Organization for failure to approve unification proposals that are "satisfactory to the state.

Proposals to split up the Sequoia, San Mateo and Jefferson high school districts into several unified districts have been repeatedly rejected by the State Board of Education.

"Failure to present to the voters of most of the county an opportunity to vote on unification means that more than $1,250,000 of additional funds is being lost without the voters having had an opportunity to say anything about it," Tormey said.

The only districts getting the

D.C. Aides, Civic Group Talk 'Frank'

Problems of Minorities Discussed

What subsequently was termed "a very frank discussion" about minority groups in Daly City was held last week among city officials and representatives of the citizens' group, Community Interaction Through You (C.I.T.Y.).

The meeting had been set up after the president of C.I.T.Y. had charged a lack of communication between city government and the community's minority population.

The Rev. Howard Bryant, the group president, leveled the charge in the wake of the Los Angeles riots.

Mayor Francis Pacelli said last week's meeting produced an interchange of ideas. Bryant said "we had a very frank discussion."

Topics, Pacelli said, included housing, job opportunities, the county's new human relations commission, the minority population total in Daly City and how fast this population was growing.

The mayor said the citizens' group stressed that it wanted to help the city in any problems and promised full co-operation. The group stressed there was no urgency involved.

Specifically, Pacelli added, C.I.T.Y. asked about the feasibility of establishing a human relations commission in Daly City and of undertaking a survey of the growth of minority groups in the city.

Pacelli said the group was worried about the effect that a proposed Bay Area Rapid Transit Station would have on that area of Daly City in which a number of homes are marked for condemnation in connection with the station.

He added that he would discuss the results of the meeting with fellow council members to determine any course of action.

Reverend Bryant said he would not have any further comment until after he had received

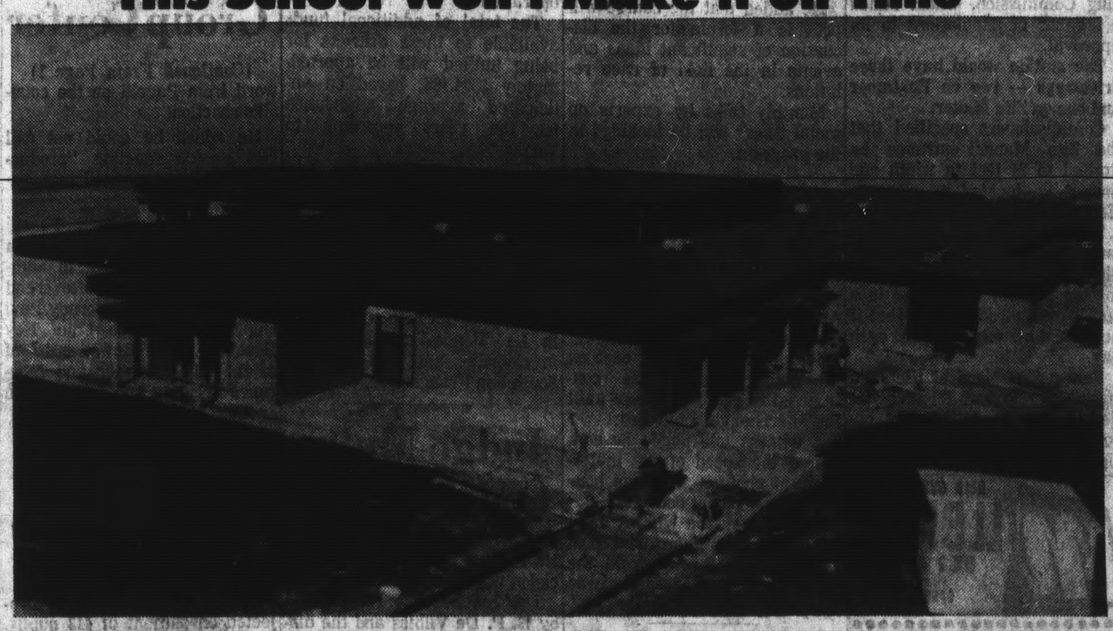
This School Won't Make It on Time



ONE SCHOOL that won't be open when classes resume Monday is the new San Andreas School at 340 Inverness Drive in the Fairmont subdivision of Pacifica. A painters' strike held up progress and the building won't be ready for students until November 15. When it is, enrollment is expected to total about 470 pupils. The school is one of two new facilities built by the Laguna Salada School District this year to help handle a total district enrollment of about 8,875 students. The other new school is Portola Highlands. (Post-Times Photo)

Record Enrollments Expected When School Opens Monday in N. County

The jangle of class bells will echo throughout North County schools Monday as more than 37,000 public school children troop into classrooms — many of them for the first time.

Without exception, the area's school districts are expecting record enrollments. Smallest increase in attendance is reported by the Jefferson Elementary School District with 100 more pupils than last September.

Expected enrollments are: Jefferson Elementary, 9,600; Laguna Salada Elementary, 8,900; Jefferson High School, 6,320; South San Francisco Unified, 12,000, and Bayshore Elementary, 540.

New construction in the North County will be evidenced in the Jefferson Elementary district where a new six-classroom wing has been added to Franklin D. Roosevelt School and in Laguna Salada where two new schools, Portola Highlands and San Andreas, have been built.

Portola Highlands will open Monday but because of a painters' strike, San Andreas is not scheduled to open until November 15.

Because of housing problems, particularly in the southern part of its district, Laguna Salada will resort to transporting students from one school area to another to relieve overcrowding at some schools.

Double-sessions had been anticipated at Fairmont School prior to the opening of San Andreas but fewer children of school age in the San Andreas area are now expected — eliminating the need for the double-sessions.

Kindergarten classes at Cabrillo, Pedro Valley, Linda Mar, Sanchez and Ortega schools will be triple-sessioned.

In the Jefferson High School District, the painters' strike also held up completion of new classroom space at Jefferson and interim arrangements have been completed for use of the school gymnasium and cafeteria.

An addition to Oceana also

D.C. Records Third Traffic Death in '65

Daly City's Labor Day weekend was marred by the death of a motorcyclist Saturday night, the first traffic fatality the city has recorded since early January and the third this year.

The victim was Robert C. Jensen, 29, of 899 Hillside Boulevard. Police said he apparently lost control of his cycle on a curve of an Alemany Boulevard detour near Junipero Serra Boulevard in Daly City.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco.

Investigators said Jensen's motorcycle struck a guard rail on the detour, just west of a new overpass that had been built to serve a freeway interchange under construction at

Classes Set In Cafeteria

The exercise rooms in the Jefferson High School gymnasium, the cafeteria and the teachers' dining room, will be pressed into service as classrooms Monday as opening day finds work on Jefferson's latest addition still several months from completion.

According to Principal John Mongan, some 200 students and six teachers will be affected by the delay.

Classes in mathematics, social science and English will be held in the makeshift quarters, pending completion of five of

Grid Prize Contest to Kick Off

The Post-Times annual football contest, featuring $500 in cash prizes, kicks off next Wednesday.

The popular weekly feature attracted more than 21,000 entries last year. The promotion features a weekly cash prize of $50 for the contestant who can correctly pick the results of 15 collegiate football games.

If there is no weekly winner, the prize accumulates up to the grand total of $500 over the 10-week contest period.

If no contestant has 15 perfect selections, the entrant with the most correct games that week will receive two tickets to the Stanford-California Big Game.

The $50 prize will then carry forward to the next week.

An additional bonus prize of $50 will be offered to any 15-selection winner who also is a subscriber of The Times

Coast Total Is Up More Than 1,000

When school opens Monday in the Laguna Salada School District, there will be an increase of over 1,000 children from last year. Projected enrollment figure is 8,874 compared to last year's total of 7,793 children.

New schools completed are Portola Highlands in San Bruno and the San Andreas School in the Fairmont subdivision of Pacifica.

Due to the painters' strike and ground conditions, San Andreas will not be ready for classes until November 15.

Children who are to attend San Andreas will find notices posted at their former schools, indicating what schools they will go to in the interim.

By LOUANNE HEATH

Six thousand, three hundred and twenty teenagers will respond to class bells when the Jefferson Union High School District opens the fall semester on Monday morning, according to figures released by District Administrative Assistant Richard Coltrell.

All four of the district's schools will again be housing record numbers of students as the north county area continues its growth pattern, district officials note.

Westmoor High School will lead in the number of students, as it has in the past, with 2,150 youngsters expected.

Jefferson High School will house 1,800, Terra Nova will have an enrollment of 1,270, and Oceana will be the district's smallest high school with 1,100 students.

The new semester will see a return of three administrators who were absent all or a part of last semester.

Jefferson Principal John Mongan will return to his desk after several months of convalescence after a heart attack.

Vice Principal Alberta Carlan of Terra Nova and Vice Principal Margaret Riggs of Westmoor will return to their posts following the end of their sabbatical leaves.

Attendance In S.S.F. to Hit Record

New records in attendance will be set again at South San Francisco's schools as they continue more than a decade of growth, according to Dr. Clifton Boyack, South San Francisco Unified School District superintendent of instruction.

Preparations are almost completed for the housing of almost 12,000 elementary, junior and senior high students expected to respond to opening day bells Monday.

Alta Loma, Avalon, Buri Buri, El Rancho, Hillside, Los Cerritos, Martin, Monte Verde, Parkway, Ponderosa, Serra Vista, Southwood, Spruce and Sunshine Garden schools will house 1,800 junior high youngsters and approximately 6,537 elementary school children.

COUNTY'S LARGEST PROGRAM

Adult School Session Set

The Jefferson Union High School District Adult Education School, the largest in San Mateo County, will begin its fall semester of classes Monday.

For the past two years, the school has issued more diplomas, offered more classes and has had a higher enrollment than any other adult education program in the county, a district spokesman said.

The school expects to enroll more than 3,000 adults this fall. About 120 instructors will teach 175 classes.

They will be offered in the four high schools of the district. A comprehensive brochure listing all class offerings may be obtained by calling PL 5-1666.

The school does not have any residence requirements, according to Louis J. Martin, principal for the past six years.

An overall fee of $1 enables a student to enroll in as many classes as he wishes.

Registration for the program will be conducted throughout next week at the time and place of the first meeting of each class.

Martin pointed out that almost all the classes offered may be taken for high school credit. Any person over 18 years of age is eligible to attend.

He added that one out of

Contrary to the hefty increases reported in neighboring districts, enrollment in the Jefferson Elementary School District Monday is expected to show only a 100-pupil increase over last figure's total of 9,500.

$2,600 Is Total for Contest

Final winning number in The Post-Times month-long Lucky License contest was claimed yesterday, bringing to $2,600 the amount in cash awarded during the four-week bumper strip game.

Owners of an estimated 5,000 San Mateo County vehicles participated in the "Lucky License" game by displaying the orange and black Times bumper strips.

A total of 22 individual winners shared the awards. Of that number, four received $200 prizes, the remainder $100 each.

The daily prize amount was $50, but was doubled to $100 for any Times daily newspaper subscriber.

Winning licenses came from cities throughout San Mateo County, south to Redwood City and north to Daly City and Pacifica.

Post-Times General Manager Harold Schlotthauer today extended a message of thanks to the many participants.

"It is gratifying," he said, "to see the interest expressed in this promotion by our many loyal readers."

seven high school diplomas awarded in California urban districts are now being awarded through adult schools.

This fall, a team of visiting accreditation representatives will evaluate the adult school program and report its findings to the Western Association of Schools and Colleges.

This organization is charged with maintaining high educational standards by "heightening an awareness of the total scope of school programs to determine if students needs and goals are being met," Martin said.

Accreditation by the association means that a school program has met high standards and has approached full academic potential.

Problems of Minorities To Be Aired

An experimental elective course, "Perspective on Social Change," will be inaugurated in the Adult Education School of the Jefferson Union High School District this fall.

The course has been designed to provide students a method for studying and understanding minority problems.

Dion DuBois, Jefferson High School faculty member, will teach the class.

He said that anthropological, physiological and sociological concepts of race and nationality will be studied.

He added that the course will provide a forum for the discussion of significant ideas and events in the field of race relations.

Monthly talks by experts on social issues will be included in the program.

Hearing Set On New D.C. Gas Station

A public hearing will be held by the Daly City Council at 8 p.m. Monday on a proposal by the Richfield Oil Corporation to build a gas station on the northeast corner of Eastmoor Avenue and Zita Manor.

The proposal has received the recommendation of the Planning Commission, which added a number of stipulations to its approval.

The station would have three driveways — two on Eastmoor and one on Zita Manor.

Commissioners specified that the Zita Manor entrance be limited to 24 feet in width and that it be located as close to Eastmoor as feasible.

The commission also stipulated that a four-foot by 24-foot illuminated pole sign, planned for the station, be erected in a north-south direction and that it be turned off after 11 p.m. each day.

Robert Trueblood of Richfield outlined the plans for the station. The proposal was not opposed at the Planning Commission meeting.

While public school children will wait until Monday, the North County's parochial school population will have had almost a week's head start. Parochial schools opened yesterday.

money this year are South San Francisco, Cabrillo and La Honda-Pescadero.

South San Francisco has been unified since 1935 but the two Coastside districts were unified by elections held last year and are now in their first year of operation.

The total of additional funds available to these districts for being unified will be approximately $204,185, based on anticipated average attendance for the year, according to Tormey.

Cabrillo will get $22,950 in extra funds; La Honda-Pescadero will receive $1,695, and and South San Francisco will get $179,940.

The additional funds, the school official said, are equivalent to a tax rate of 2.2 cents in La Honda-Pescadero, 10.7 in Cabrillo, and 15.2 cents in South San Francisco.

The coaches are represented by E. P. De Vilbiss and the district by Deputy District Attorney Lois Scampini.

The position of the district is that coaching is just one of the duties called for under the contract.

Four Seized in Theft of Gold

19 silver hooks over a well-lighted electrolytic tank full of hydrochloric acid and disappeared. They must have used rubber gloves, and knew what they were doing, a company official said.

Estimates of the value of the gold soared at one point during the investigation to as much as $150,000 if sold on the black market. "It would be worth $150 an ounce in Red China," one official noted.

Wildberg Brothers' spokesmen said the missing metal included several pieces, with the largest possibly measuring four inches thick, six inches wide and 14 inches long. Others could be as slim as a pencil, they said.

The "cleverness of the thieves led to their arrest," Fabbri said after the arrests. The alleged "mastermind" of the plot, Mastronardi, apparently had full knowledge of the workings of the plant, Fabbri stated.

He said it is known that some of the gold worth $35 an ounce or more, had been sold.

The four suspects were brought from the jail to the courthouse for their first arraignment without handcuffs. Greeted by Bay Area photographers, Paoletti and Elbb covered their faces with handkerchiefs. Cornuelle and Mastro the cameramen's presence. cameramen's presence.

Previously, the district had scheduled one hour for lunch.

The lunch hour supervisor program also will be extended to all schools this semester after a successful one-year at Sunshine Garden school and Los Cerritos. The new policy relieves all teachers of lunch time yard duties, Boyack said.

As school opens, the district will be completing construction work at Ponderosa, Serra Vista and Monte Verde schools, but the final touches to the renovations are not expected to interfere with instruction.

New additions to the district staff will include Dr. Paul Goerke, who will serve as co-ordinator of vocal music.

County Free Library Tax Rate Is Cut

A 2½-cent decrease in the tax rate for the San Mateo County Free Library District has been approved by the County Board of Supervisors.

Because of the big increase in the assessment roll this year, the tax cut was possible despite the requirement of $116,730 more in tax funds to operate the library system, supervisors said.

The library levy this year is $745,512, compared with a $628,782 figure for last year. The comparative tax rates are .1841 cents and .1385 cents.

The county library district includes all of the county except the cities of Burlingame, Daly City, Hillsborough, Menlo Park, Redwood City, San Bruno, San Mateo and South San Francisco.

Here is a list of some of the other county districts, showing a comparison of the tax rate (given first) this year with that of last year:

Mosquito abatement — .0143, $121,873; .0166, $104,941. Air pollution control — .0091, $114,812; .0092, $85,211. Harbor — .0041, $51,425; .0219, $203,454. Soil conservation — .0065, $2,812; .0200, $4,285.

Pacifica to Contribute to Sharp Park Bridge Cost

The City of Pacifica will contribute $10,000 towards a new pedestrian overpass at Eureka Square in the Sharp Park area.

Kenneth Thompson, director of public works, said a city council resolution has been sent to the State Division of Highways, requesting that the overpass be constructed.

The city has offered to contribute $10,000 toward the cost, he said.

A growing dissatisfaction has been voiced by Sharp Park residents at the walking distance from a present overpass and a tunnel to the Eureka Square Shopping Center on the east side of the freeway.

The existing Sharp Park overpass is located at the north end of the community and the pedestrian tunnel passes under the highway at the south end of Sharp Park.

Eureka Square is located between the overpass and the tunnel, necessitating a walk of almost 20 blocks for many residents in Sharp Park.

Older residents and others who have to walk, especially with small children, have complained of the distance, city officials say.

Thompson said many residents have asked why an overpass nearer Eureka Square was not included in plans for the freeway.

He explained that the shopping center was not developed at the time the freeway plan was formulated.

Richard Racine of 43 Eaton Avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that baby toys had been stolen from his panel truck.

USAF Opens 'Sub-Office'

The U.S. Air Force has opened a "sub-office" in the Petty Realty Office at 6265 Mission Street in Daly City to serve the North County area.

Sgt. Richard W. Gatley announced that all recruiting programs, both for officers and enlisted men, will be handled by the office. It will be open each Thursday from 1 to 5 p.m. Additional information may be obtained by calling 583-5029.

By LE PACINI

IT HAS LONG been suspected by sports historians that cricket is the great-grandfather of baseball.

There is much to lend credence to this theory. Obviously, both games are played with bats and balls and bases and the object of the game is to score more runs than the other guy.

More subtle points of sameness are that records are kept religiously and held in reverence and that both games can be dreadfully boring to the uninitiated who are seeking merely sight-action.

And, finally, cricket was played in America in 1751, at least a century before baseball was.

Somewhere along the line, however, the games took divergent courses in two bits of philosophy and cricket, we are loath to admit, got the best of the deal.

CRICKET, YOU SEE, looks on the long ball as just another facet of the game — an event that is bound to happen occasionally; and there is no such thing as a pampered cricket star.

Not that the long ball isn't rewarded in cricket. A ball hit over the fence is good for an automatic six (roughly equivalent to six runs), and a ball that rolls to the fence is an automatic four.

The catches, however, are several. A cricket ball is at least a quarter of an ounce heavier than a baseball and not nearly as lively. The striking surface of a cricket bat is flat, like a ping-pong paddle, and the bat as a whole doen't have as much "wood" in it as does a baseball bat.

Also, the balls are not generally pitched, or "bowled" as hard as in baseball and a cricket batman is faced with the problem of having to hit the ball on a bounce, which also reduces the chance for getting a good piece of the ball.

Finally, although the size of cricket fields can, like baseball fields, differ widely, the dimensions of the average cricket field should be roughly 500 feet by 500 feet. The double dimensions are given because there are no foul lines in cricket (evidentally, the conservative British didn't like the idea of losing balls in the stands) and the field is used in all directions.

TO GIVE YOU an idea of exactly how seldom a ball goes over the fence in cricket, consider this: where the maximum drive for an average baseball batter is, say, 400 feet, the same such drive in cricket would be 300 feet.

John Fitzgerald, a St. Mary's College amateur cricket player, fungoed the ball 361 feet, seven inches, in 1941. As far as we've been able to determine, that's still the official American record.

Contrast that to the existing record of a fungoed baseball — 503 feet, three inches — by amateur Walter Driver in 1945.

Of course, fungoing is an art in itself, as attested to by the fact that Babe Ruth's longest recorded fungo carried "only" 421 feet, eight inches.

Cricket's attitude toward the Long Ball reminds us of a variation of baseball we played as kids. We were too small to muscle our way onto the heavily used regulation diamond in the neighborhood, and were forced to utilize a very small area near the tennis courts.

When we managed to get hold of a decent, untaped baseball, it was no feat to belt one over the fence. This caused problems. If the ball didn't hit a tennis player in the head, it nearly would and the irate tennis player would toss the ball to the nearest big dog — that is, if the big dog hadn't already glommed onto it himself.

It also involved a long hike after the ball and the cement courts would also do awful things to the ball's cover.

So our rule was, over the fence is three outs. It turned all of us into line drive hitters and to this day every last kid of the old gang appreciates the finer points of the game.

Yes, baseball's changed since the day in 1896 when Ed Delehanty hit four homers in a game and got four boxes of chewing gum for it.

So much for the Long Ball.

NOW, AS TO THE philosophy of the pampered player, and the idea held by many virile Americans that cricket's a sissy game (as a matter of fact, we can't think of anything more sissy than wearing knickers). In cricket, there's no such thing as "resting" a player. Substitutes are allowed only in case of a disabling injury.

And the wearing of gloves is not allowed — even though the cricket ball is harder than a baseball — except by the wicket keeper, or "catcher," who may wear two gloves. But he doesn't have any other protection. No chest protector, mask or shinguards.

Perhaps you can better appreciate the wicket keeper's peril when you realize that an outstanding cricket bowler, with that straight-armed delivery (something like a basketball hook shot) coming off a full run (a bowler may take as long an "approach" as he wishes as long as he releases the ball at the equivalent of the pitcher's rubber), can wing a ball at 90 miles an hour.

Coming off a hard surface (which, by proper cricket standards is harder than a baseball field), twisting in a deliberately vicious manner (a good bowler can produce diabolical bounces), the cricket ball can get a wicket keeper into a lot of trouble.

A cricket keeper in America, especially has an even rougher time because there are few regulation fields in this country (Los Angeles has some) and the makeshift ones are often extremely rocky and bumpy.

ALL OF WHICH leads us into the peril of Len Williams of Oakland. He's president of the California Cricket Association, a semi-retired apartment house owner, one-time member of a Southern California cricket team which included C. Aubrey Smith, Errol Flynn, Nigel Bruce and believe it or not, Boris karloff, and constant hunter for cricket field sites.

One might not think that there would be much competition for such sites but in San Mateo County, for instance, there are nine teams. There are 13 in the East Bay. That fact, coupled with the need for vast dimensions and proper surfacing (which they rarely get, says Williams), makes fields hard to come by.

Williams is now negotiating for a piece of Golden Gate Park (the Polo Fields are only occasionally used), and there may be a real breakthrough because of a recent invitation from the new Peacock Gap Country Club, which encourages other exotic sports such as lacrosse.

But such invitations are rare, indeed, notes Williams.

And that just isn't cricket, you know.

Top Matman Gives Hints To D.C. Boys

Alan "Doc" Northrup, recognized dean of American wrestlers, paid a surprise visit to a wrestling workout conducted by the Daly City Recreation Department last week in the War Memorial Community Center.

He demonstrated a number of holds he has learned in a long career and during several several world-wide trips. He also showned his audience variations and countermoves for side roles.

The wrestling program is held each Wednesday night in the War Memorial, starting at 7 p.m. Each participant should provide his own wrestling clothes and shoes, towels, soap and a lock for his locker.

The programs are open free to anyone interested in wrestling at any experience level.

Flag Raiser was three years and two days old the day he won the Wood Memorial at Aqueduct. He was foaled at Ocala Stud Farm on April 15, 1962.

Tables will be set up in the lobby and exhibits will include flowers that won top prizes for three members at the San Francisco Garden Show in Golden Gate Park.

John Fern won the sweepstakes trophy in the novice division for his rose entries. His white patented rose, called "White Knight," won top prize. It was grown in Daly City.

Other club winners were Joseph Kusber, best in show for fuchsias, and Julian Hargrove, second place in the sweepstakes trophy competition in the novice rose entries division.

The show will be open from 1:30 to 7:30 p.m. Saturday and from 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

The course was taught in the Sir Francis Drake Hotel. Miss Houts will resume her fall teaching schedule this month.

Safety Group Reviews Aims

The Pacifica Safety Commission, now reduced to five members, has met to discuss its revised duties and responsibilities.

The commission, which concerns itself with all phases of community safety, agreed to limit its meetings to one a month or fewer, depending on the extent of its activities.

New functions and responsibilities were outlined in a memo from the city council.

Traffic safety, firearms, beach safety, and fire safety are among the commission's areas of concern.

The commission will act as an advisory group and make recommendations to members of the city staff and other public and private jurisdictions of city government.

A set of by-laws will be submitted to the city council for approval.

COMMENT

County Doesn't Need Jail Farm

FOR NEARLY a decade, San Mateo County has been trying to establish a jail farm at various points around the county and the resultant reaction has always been identical. Every locality near which it has been proposed to place this correctional facility has risen up in a storm of protest.

It seems somewhat curious that the County Supervisors, the County Manager, and the Sheriff's Office are unable to recognize the lesson implicit in this. It is a simple lesson. It is just the fact that no city, no community, and no neighborhood will tolerate having a less than maximum security jail facility in its vicinity. Most of them would have more vehement objections if a maximum security jail were proposed.

Yet, once again, it is now proposed to establish a jail farm off Polhemus Road in the immediate area of the San Mateo Highlands and a complex of county government buildings which already includes the juvenile detention home—the scene of many escapes. It was entirely predictable that the residents and homeowners of the area would be up in arms over this proposal and such has proved to be the case.

IT IS OUR contention that San Mateo County belongs to its lawabiding people and taxpayers and if they do not want penal institutions in their neighborhoods the county has no right to force establishment of such institutions upon them.

It is up to the county officials to come up with some other solution of their penological difficulties. Several alternatives are possible and, although they may be more expensive than setting up an easy access jail farm, they should gain the support of those who will not tolerate a jail farm in the vicinity of their homes, their families and their children.

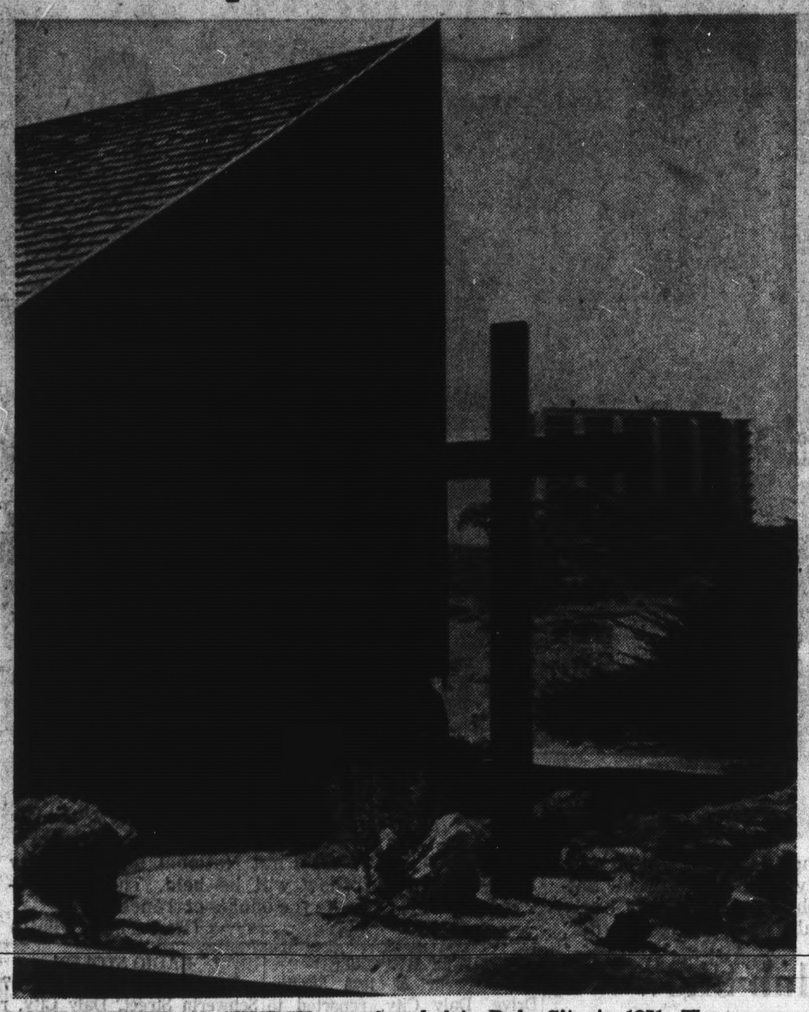
One alternative is to select a jail farm site in a remote and relatively uninhabited part of the county. Another is to provide an extension or annex for the present county jail. Still another is to build, a new, maximum security county prison. A careful survey of what is being done to meet the problem elsewhere in the nation might bring still other acceptable solutions.

BUT THE IDEA of setting up a jail farm, as it has been advanced many times in the past ten years, has never been more than a cheap and unsatisfactory make-shift method of meeting the needs.

Worse, it has been a source of fear and apprehension on the part of women, children, and householders who rely upon the retention of values in their life-time investments for homes. It serves no purpose to call this emotionalism or panic. It is very real fear and apprehension to those who experience it and they deserve better respect from their county officials.

It is up to the county officials to find a genuine and acceptable way of meeting their jail deficiencies. They cannot dump them on any self-respecting neighborhood and should stop their attempts to do this. The people of the county are more important than its prisoners.

Hope Lutheran Church



HOPE LUTHERAN CHURCH was founded in Daly City in 1951. The congregation met in the old Broadmoor Community Center until the present sanctuary on a hillside site at 55 San Fernando Way was dedicated in 1958. Founding pastor was the Rev. Louis Martin who served until 1960. He was succeeded by the Rev. Paul Malte who served until the present pastor, the Rev. Arnim H. Polster, mounted the pulpit in August of 1962. The church plans to build an education building sometime this fall, according to Reverend Polster. Membership totals about 700 worshippers. (Post-Times Photo)

Chugging Off To Extinction

Don Miller

THE PROPOSAL by the Southern Pacific Railroad last week — justified or not — to boost its fares to meet what it terms rising costs is almost guaranteed to have one immediate effect if either the Interstate Commerce Commission or the state's Public Utilities Commission goes along with the request.

In simple terms, the boost in fares will mean less passenger and more traffic on the Bayhore Freeway (which can use more traffic about as much as a juggler can use two thumbs).

Fewer passengers on the trains, of course, will mean a further loss in revenue, a widening spread between income and costs and ultimately another request to boost fares.

This vicious circle has been in vogue on the American railroad scene for two decades now and the way things are going, the day may come when the passenger train has become as extinct as the dodo bird.

THE QUESTION OF why the American public has all but abandoned the railroad as a means of transportation can be answered merely by getting into the family flivver and driving down the Bayshore Freeway past San Fracisco International Airport.

The freeway, and superhighways like it represent perhaps the prime reason why railroad terminals look like mausoleums these days. We have taken to the highway in this country in such numbers and with such fervor that the automobile has become in the short 60 years or so of its existence akin to an artery to the heart.

Down past the airport, of course, you'll see the second most significant factor in the demise of the passenger train—the airplane and in particular, the jet airplane.

The average person in our hurry-up society will take one look at the $28 round trip air fare to Los Angeles and the 40 minute one-way flying time, another look at the railroad's $23 round trip fare and nine-hour one-way time, and make a fast dash for the airline counter.

Thus, about the only people riding the long-haul passenger trains these days are people who aren't in a hurry, are railroad buffs at heart or are convinced that seeing the vistas of America from a vista dome is the only way of traveling.

IT IS PERHAPS ironic that concurrent with this antipathy toward passenger service, the public, on the other hand, seems to be absolutely fascinated by the revival of the short-haul, steam-operated railroads.

These railroads, for the most part, don't really go anywhere but have been set up principally as a novelty — a sort of amusement park on wheels.

Their success is demonstrated by the fact that contrary to the situation a few years ago when railroads couldn't get rid of their steam behemoths fast enough, today there is a demand for the hissing monsters of yesteryear.

One of the latest attractions on the steam railroad circuit is the long-revered Skunk, that exceedingly picturesque short-line carrier that runs between Fort Bragg and Willits through the Redwood country of Mendocino County.

The Skunk, as you may recall, used to be (and still is on many runs) a self-propelled diesel passenger car that got its nickname because of the smell of the diesel.

Not long ago, the Western Pacific, the Skunk's master, decided that the already-proven popularity of its scenic right-of-way could be made even more popular with the addition of an old-time steam locomotive and some vintage passenger cars.

And so, each day now on the Fort Bragg-Willits run, the WP operates a truly antique passenger train and the thickly forested countryside echoes with the haunting sound of the engine's steam whistle.

So popular has the run become that at last report, the railroad was trying to exhume another steam locomotive that would serve either as a standby to the one now in operation or as the motive power for a second old-time train.

RIGHT HERE, practically in our own backyard, we have the Roaring Camp and Big Trees Railroad, which is laying track down among the Redwoods outside of Felton, north of Santa Cruz, just as fast as the railroad's budget and construction timetable permit.

Here, too, the eerie hoot of the steam whistle piercing the stillness of the forest green is a sound that sends shivers up the backs of true railroad buffs and some not-so-buff as well. The Roaring Camp first huffed to life a couple of years ago and ultimately plans to run trackage over a considerable chunk of countryside.

The popularity of steam passenger trips is also evidenced these days every time one of the area's railroad fan clubs (or that railroad-minded San Francisco radio station) sponsors a trip on some usually obscure line off somewhere in the hinterlands.

The trips are invariably well-attended and if you've ever seen an excursion train of this kind with the passengers waving and cheering and generally thoroughly enjoying themselves, you'd swear the Iron Horse was staging a comeback and all this business about freeways and jets was just a passing fad.

MAYBE THE answer, if railroad management IS looking for an answer, to the dying passenger trade is a fresh new, space-age outlook toward a once profitable aspect of every railroad's operation.

Then, perhaps, that vicious circle would be demolished, and those periodic requests for a fare boost would become less periodic—or is that TOO much to expect.

Better Business

How to Identify Valid EDP School

Lorene Beasley

SCHOOLS STARTING shortly have brought a sharp increase in the inquiries regarding trade schools. The Better Business Bureau does not recommend or act as a reference for any school, nor will it give out lists of schools in any field.

It will furnish fact information but will not give advice about any specific schools. If complaints have been received about certain schools, this information will appear in the Bureau files.

For those who are interested in electronic data processing (EDP) training, we are repeating information on how to identify a competent EDP school.

STUDY THE official brochures of the various schools offering EDP training. Do not sign up for a course simply because the school puts out an attractive brochure.

If you are a recent high school graduate, consult your former school principal or guidance counselor. Ask him to help you to decide if you are actually qualified for the EDP training.

Some schools have been known to solicit students for courses they were not qualified to take because of lack of background and experience.

Reputable schools screen their students and will not accept or retain those who do not meet their standards.

Beware of the school that will sign up a student with a small payment regardless of qualifications.

COMPARE ONE EDP school against the other as to equipment. Does the cost of the course include the use of equipment. If not, what is the additional charge for the use of the equipment?

How often is the student allowed to use the equipment and for how long?

Check the background of the instructors. Are there enough instructors to give the students a reasonable amount of personal attention? Do the instructors have solid, practical experience?

Do the classes meet regularly? Are the courses educationally sound and up-to-date? What text books does the school use?

BEWARE OF the high-pressure salesman who tells you: "You better sign up today as the price of the course is going up next month."

If the salesman says the school he represents has been recommended by a school superintendent, high school principal, the State Board of Education or a Better Business Bureau—check on it.

The Better Business Bureau does not endorse or recommend any "security, product, service, or concern and no concern is permitted to indicate otherwise in its selling and advertising."

All terms of a school contract should be clearly understood before signing. Most schools insist upon the student signing a contract so there will be no misunderstanding concerning the amounts, terms of payment coudses covered, etc.

This is for the student's protection as well as the school's.

DO NOT SIGN a contract unless you intend and expect to keep it. Most contracts, agreements or enrollment applications contain a "cancellation penalty clause" of 25 per cent or more of the total contract amount. Do not rely on oral representations of a salesman.

Schools are responsible only for what they have agreed to do in writing.

Beware of the "guaranteed" placement. Some schools exaggerate the present demand and future employment. No school can legitimately promise to get a student a job as schools are not licensed employment agencies.

Contact the graduates of the school you are planning to sign a contract with and obtain first-hand information about the school's claims for purportedly satisfied students.

Reputable schools maintain a placement service, which means that a student's name will be placed on a list for EDP companies to contact.

The percentage of successful placements is a good indication of the worth of the school.

Film Role For Carol?

Barbara Bladen

WHEN CAROL CHANNING gets to Los Angeles with "Hello, Dolly" you can bet there will be lots of movie talk between her and the studios. Time was when she couldn't get into a crowd scene but Broadway producers always have something to teach Hollywood moviemen.

Richard Morris has written a script for Ross Hunter, a frequent visitor at the home of Richard's parents in Burlingame, entitled "Thoroughly Modern Millie" which is set in the Twenties and would seem to suit the San Francisco blonde singer-comedian perfectly.

FOLLOWING MARY MARTIN'S Tokyo, Moscow and Leningrad tour of "Hello, Dolly" and a six-month stay with the show in London, the "dynamite kid" will move over to what may be David Merrick's sequel, successwise, for 1966 on Broadway.

"I Do, I Do" is the title of the show which Gower Champion (of "Hello, Dolly" fame)will also direct and choreograph. Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt whose first success, "The Fantasticks," now in its second year in San Francisco (at the Hilton Hotel Tent Theatre adjacent to the lobby) and "110 in the Shade" are writing the new show.

AMONG THE MANY comebacks made this year by former stars who have since been absent from the Broadway and Hollywood stages (including Ginger Rogers who is equalling her former popularity in the lead role in "Hello, Dolly" on Broadway) is Gypsy Rose Lee. She came up through the ranks of burlesque, vaudeville and the legitimate stage, back in the public eye, through the glass eye of local morning television.

LEON KATZ, who lent his considerable talent to the production of "David" in Palo Alto these past two weeks, will change sides of the curtain for the professional production of "In White America" which will have its premiere in San Francisco Tuesday at the Contemporary Theatre.

He will direct the documentary play about the Negro struggle first in the Bay Area and then move it to Los Angeles. The play was first performed in New York in 1963 and in London. It is being produced by Gerard Purcell and Peter Rachtman whose two conotroversial one-acts, also about Negroes, have been held over to continuing audiences at the Marines Memorial Theatre.

In spite of the furor caused by the title and subject matter of the LeRoi Jones plays, they have provided the only stimulating theatre in the Bay Area since the Tennessee Williams play opened last month at the Encore Theatre. Burgess Meredith flies up from Los Angeles to tighten the direction.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

I am writing you this letter to most sincerely thank the Lions Club of Daly City for providing a "day" at Candlestick Park for the children of Daly City playgrounds to see the Giants play.

As the mother of Lanny Fabisch, I was asked to go as an escort to the baseball game.

It was my first Giants game. I was kept well informed by the children about the progress and nature of the game.

And we all had fun!

Believe me, the children would have made the members of the Lions Club proud to see how good and well-mannered the children were.

It was a wonderful day all around. My thanks again.

TO THE EDITOR:

I read with interest your editorial in the August 25th edition of The Post, entitled "Overhaul for Soap Bubble," and how as of July 1 this year, soap is now supposedly safe and will not pollute water supplies.

Maybe you don't realize it but . . . there is a laundry compound that will not pollute water supplies and is derived from coconut oil rather than a petroleum-based detergent like everything else on the market today.

Udall's Campaign For Conservation

Samuel Chandler

FEW PEOPLE realize that a revolution has been started in this country by a hard working man from Arizona. Stewert Lee Udall—Secretary of Interior, is the man behind the Johnson administration's desire to preserve and even recreate America's beauty.

His book, "The Quiet Crisis," fills the need for a definition and a clarification of the meaning, aims and methods of conservation. In it he observes that every one loves the natural beauty of the earth and believes in its preservation. "Yet we live in a land of vanishing beauty, of increasing ugliness, of shrinking open space and of an overall environment that is diminished daily by pollution and noise and blight."

This is not a pessimistic book, however. In it, the Secretary demonstrates that it is not too late to repair some of the mistakes of the past and "to make America a green and pleasant and productive land."

"THE QUIET CRISIS," is an attempt to present a fresh insight to the importance of using the land of our country wisely. More th n that, it is a history of the forces that have shaped our attitudes towards the earth and an outline of the patterns of land use in the United States.

Of the book, a reviewer wrote in the New Republic: "Since the author is Secretary of the Interior, we look to him for guidance as to what can be done . . . and Udall can provide it The elements are present in his concluding chapters. But in these pages the Secretary steps back a pace, the poet picks up the pen.

The concluding chapters are "Conservation and the Future" and "Land Ethics for Tomorrow." They show his concern and his hopes. "Let us not delude ourselves or be content with sentimentality or mere words," he wrote here and in other places, "for the time has come when men must choose what kind of permanent relationship they want to have with their land and its creatures. There is a growing uneasiness and deep concern for the preservation of the wildlife of this continent."

To punctuate his words, Secretary Udall begins each chapter with quotations from poets and philosophers These are accompanied by magnificent photographs and a foreward by the lage President Kennedy.

SINCE "THE QUIET CRISIS" was published in 1963, Secretary Udall has explained his program to the President, who is himself most interested in conservation; to Congress and to the public.

Some of his articles are: "We Must Act Now," in Audubon magazine; "National Parks for the Future," in the Atlantic Monthly; "To Save Wildlife and Aid Us," "The West and its Public Lands,' and "His Anger Is Fully Justified" in Sports Illustrated.

As if to illustrate his desire to see that the land and the wildlife are preserved, Secretary Udall encourages the preparation of conservation books by other writers. One of these is George Laycock's "The Sign of the Flying Goose."

In the foreword, Udall writes "Mr. Laycock has given us a much needed manual which will surely enhance our interest in this wildlife legacy we share."

"The Sign of the Flying Goose" locates the wildlife refuges in the country and describes them and tells their stories. The author's major concern, however, is 17 areas that he discusses and illustrated with maps.

UNDER SECRETARY Udall's guidance, the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife of the Department of the Interior has published "Waterfowl Tomorrow." This is a beautiful book, profusely illustrated and dedicated to the needs of the 48 species of ducks, geese and swans that live on the North American continent.

Much of the information presented is in print for the first time. Most of it is presented in the interest and support of sportsman who enjoy duck hunting enough to seek the preservation of the birds and the sport.

Sugar... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

VACATIONS ARE FUN but it's good to be home. With the many things that have to be accomplished before school opens, we won't have much time to sit and wish we were back beside the swimming pool or the cool stream.

Personally, I have a great many recipes to test and taste and if they pass the testing and tasting with honors, I'll pass them on to you good cooks. Not that I find this phase of my work anything but pleasant, for I've been tasting and testing recipes for many years.

Before leaving on my vacation, I made a batch of cookies, testing a recipe that reads well and looked delicious in the picture. The results more than lived up to expectations and I want to share it with you.

CHOCOLATE TWIN DOTS

½ cup dates
¼ cup water
1 package chocoalte bits, 6 oz. size
1½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon soda
¾ cup shortening
1½ cups brown sugar, firmly packed
1 egg, unbeaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup quick-cooking oatmeal
1 cup raisins
½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar
½cup nuts, finely chopped

Cut the dates fine and simmer in water until soft, two to three minutes. Cool. Melt two-thirds of the package of chocolate bits over hot water. (Reserve remaining one-third package).

Sift together flour, salt and soda. Blend together the shortening and bown sugar, creaming well. Add the egg, unbeaten, and the vanilla. Lastly, add the melted chocolate and beat well. Blend in the sifted dry ingredients gradually and stir in the oatmeal, raisins and cool dates. Chill if necessary for easy handling.

Drop by rounded teaspoonfuls into the sifted confectioners' sugar. Coat thoroughly with sugar and form into balls. Dip tops into chopped nuts. Place on greased baking sheets. Press two of the reserved chocolate bits close together into the top of each cookie. Bake in moderate oven (375-degrees) 10 to 12 minutes. Cool one minute before removing from baking sheets. Cool thoroughly and store in tightly covered container. Makes about five dozen cookies.

THE NAME of this next recipe caught my eye because the two words seem incompatible. Waffles and enchiladas — who ever heard of such a thing?

Well, I made the dish and I can assure you that the combination is quite delicious and most unusual. My family thought it was delightful and with that kind of reception I hasten to pass it on.

WAFFLE ENCHILADAS

1½ cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1½ cups yellow cornmeal
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1½ cups milk
¾ cup shortening, melted

Sift together, flour, baking powder and salt. Add the yellow cornmeal and mix well. Combine the slightly beaten eggs, milk and melted shortening. Add to dry ingredients all at once; beat only until smooth.

Bake in preheated waffle iron at medium heat until steaming ceases and waffle is golden brown. Keep warm in oven until serving time. Divide each waffle in half. Serve sandwich-style with hot meat filling between and on top of waffle halves. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese on top.

Note: This waffle batter is very thick. I had to spoon it on and spread it over the iron so don't panic and think there's something wrong . . . that's the way it's supposed to be. With the amount of shortening called for in the recipe, the result is a very crisp waffle.

MEAT FILLING

1 pound ground meat
1 tablespoon oil
⅛ teaspoon instant minced garlic or one clove fresh garlic
½ cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped green pepper
1 can (No. 2) tomatoes
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
1 teaspoon chili powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Worchestshire sauce

Brown the meat in the oil; add minced garlic and brown, stirring all the while. Add the rest of the ingredients, blend well. Simmer for one hour, stirring occasionally.

Course in Folk Dancing Slated

A three-month course in international folk dancing will begin Friday, September 17, in the War Memorial Community Center in Daly City. The session will begin at 7:30 p.m. and continue to 9:15.

After completion of the course, students will be eligible to join the El Camino Reelers, a group sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department.

Elsie Maclaren, director of the course, said that some of the dances to be taught date back more than 300 years.

Every year, Americans eat new record amounts of cheese. In 1964 the average per capita consumption was close to nine and a half pounds per person.

Russia is the largest producer of creamery butter in the world, with 1964 production there up 9 per cent over 1963, at 1 billion, 863 million pounds.

5th Annual 'Heurigen' Is Planned

Shoveling dirt and driving a tractor is not the usual preparation for a wine-tasting festival but that is how some members of the Peninsula Symphony Auxiliary and their husbands have been spending their summer weekends.

The result is a 20 by 30-foot concrete dance floor among the redwoods of the John McKee estate in Woodside which will be the setting Saturday for the fifth annual Heurigen.

More than 100 people were turned away last year, according to Mrs. Alec Matthews, this year's chairman. "We hope to accommodate all friends of the Peninsula Symphony this year," she said.

Based on the Viennese tradition of tasting the fragrant, fresh, new wine in an atmosphere of light-hearted gaiety, the Heurigen bubbles with spontaneous outbursts of group singing to the accompaniment of accordionist Mel Dunne of San Jose.

The committee expects that the new dance floor will encourage the guests, many of whom will be dressed in Austrian costume, to polka, waltz or even schottische to the dance tunes of the German band of Paul de Carli of Menlo Park.

Following the wine tasting, furnished by the Christian Brothers Winery, a Viennese dinner will be served by the Party Givers of Menlo Park.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Matthews in Mountain View or Mrs. Harold P. Johnson of Redwood City, reservations chairman.

First Officers Are Chosen By Los Pacificans

First officers of the newly formed Los Pacificans, sponsored by the Pacifica Park Beach and Recreation Department are:

Philema Rudisill, president; Francis Brydone-Jack, vice president; Myra Barr, secretary; Rosella Kellum, treasurer and Tom Grant, parliamentarian.

The group is open to anyone 40 years of age and older. It meets the first, third and fifth Tuesday of each month from noon to 3 p.m. at the Oddstad Park clubhouse.

A variety of programs, including parties, tours, fund-raising events, arts and crafts classes and dancing, are planned.

Newlyweds Honeymoon In Canada

Canada was the honeymoon destination of the former Kay Karol Marshall and her husband, Lawrence R. Strom who were married at the First Baptist Church in South San Francisco.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Marshall of 417 Mariposa Drive, South San Francisco, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a traditional costume of white peau de soie appliqued with white lace and seed pearls and fashioned with a belled skirt and a detachable train. She carried a Bible topped with orchids.

Mrs. James Baughn, sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Lou Linnet Marshall, another sister; Martha Strom, sister of the bridegroom, and Aldah Jo Taylor of Arlington, Tex.

Melanie Marie Baughn was the flower girl. Teddy Marshall, Kay's brother, was the ring bearer.

Martha Marshall, sister of the bride, and Karin Strom, sister of the bridegroom, were candle lighters.

Cottage cheese is a tasty, low calorie, nutritious dairy food. Average U.S. consumption of this product is close to five pounds per person. A record high.

Louanne's Datebook

By LOUANNE HEATH

THE MEMBERS of the Our Lady of Perpetual Help Mothers' Club spent a busy day yesterday, beginning in the early hours of the morning and finishing only after the final game of whist had been played late in the afternoon.

Following the annual hassle, involved with getting reluctant "angels" back into their classrooms, many of the members were on hand, greeting the mothers of new students in the school cafeteria.

The initial activity was the traditional welcoming breakfast held at 9:30 a.m. and arranged by chairman Mrs. Walter Tafralis and Mrs. David Cocchi. Members of the receiving line included Mrs. Joseph Daniels, club president, and the members of the executive board. Planned as a get-acquainted program, the occasion is always a cheery one for members and guests alike.

Hardly had the cafeteria been emptied when preparations were begun for the whist party, which began at 1:30 p.m. Coffee and cake were served prior to the start of play by the hostess, all members of the executive board, the board of directors and committee chairmen.

The schedule of regular meetings will begin next week when the membership will gather Wednesday for the September conclave, according to publicity chairman Mrs. Jackie Hallaron.....

HOME FROM a week-long vacation which they spent "just relaxing and getting caught up on our rest" are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Burn and their two daughters, Sylvia and Cindy.

☆ ☆ ☆

GETTING SETTLED in their lovely new batchelor quarters in the Fairmont section are Hal Stites and Nick Heath, both previously of Westlake.

Thus far, the furnishings, in addition to conventional household items, include a huge pool table in the "study" and innumerable ingenious electrical innovations designed to help keep guests alert.

☆ ☆ ☆

THE DALY CITY Community Chorus wound up its schedule of summer performances this past week with an appearance at the Laguna Honda Home in San Francisco.

The program, directed by Patti Stolz, was designed to provide a little laughter and perhaps stir a few memories for the residents of the home.

☆ ☆ ☆

HOME AFTER a week at Whispering Pines, near Forest Lake, are Mr. and Mrs. William Ross and children, Bill, Larry, Diane and Debbie.

It was the second prolonged stay in sun land for the Ross family, which began the summer season with a week at the Lear of the Bear.

☆ ☆ ☆

MARIE CLINTON, Mrs. Hildegard Hansen and children, Helen and Jeffrey, Mrs. Ruth Heavey, Mrs. Jean La Mar, Mrs. Janice McCraney, Mrs. Anita Taylor, Mrs. Barbara Wolowic and children, Paul, Fred, Theresa and Deloris, and master Joseph and Peggy Hardin will be among those modeling during the second fall fashion show being planned by the San Francisco Chapter of Alph Iota International Honorary Business Sriority.

The names of the models were released last week by show chairman Mrs. Wolwic who has returned home after two months of vacation in the mountains.

MRS. DAWWIN SCHMIDT, Mrs. Charles Ashworth, Mrs. Dan Uriarte, Mrs. Jess Burton, Mrs. Fred Ballew and Mrs. Gordon MacDonald will be among the past presidents of the Pacifica Federated Women's Club who will take turns serving during this year's annual membership tea scheduled for September 19.

Mrs. Louis Lorenz, the second vice president in charge of membership, is chairman of the event, to be held in the Culture Room of the Sharp Park Branch of the Pacifica Library from 2 until 4 in the afternoon.

The 63 club members have been inviting friends and acquaintances, who they feel might be interested in the civic and philanthropic work of the organization, to attend the gathering to learn more about the program. President Mrs. Arnold Grumm, however, wishes anyone who is interested in affiliating with the chapter to call Mrs. Lorenz, 355-6715, or Mrs. Chanel Morais, 359-1028.

The group meets monthly, on the third Tuesday, in the Terra Nova High School, Mrs. Grumm said, and it is now entering its eighth year of active participation in Pacifica civic and charitable programs.

MRS. VIDA FASSLER requests that interested persons, as well as members and sponsor-members of P.A.P.A., be on hand for the special annual meeting at 8 p.m. in the Vallemar offices of the Laguna Salada School District.

Main time of business will be the election of permanent officers and a board of directors. Members of the nominating committee have endorsed interim officers Mel David, Jean Donohue, Patrica West and Estelle Dahlquist for election to the executive board and Roland Terry, John Getas, Jay Clyde, Lucille Foster and Rod Linhares to the board of directors. Nominations from the floor will be accepted, Mrs. Fassler said.

THE WESTMOOR Creative Dance Group will begin the fall semester September 21 in Thomas Edison School, according to Mrs. Erna Sherne, co-chairman of the program.

Plans call for classes in technique, creative dance and ballet for children ranging in age from three years through the primary grades in the classes that are a part of the dance program initiated by Dick Ford of Channel 9 "Hop Skip and Dance" fame.

The non-profit organization is planning to conduct classes on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons during the eight-week course. A registration fee, ranging from $14 to $18 according to type of class desired, is used to pay teaching salaries and rental on classroom space. Pre-registration is recommended for children to be enrolled but it is not mandatory, according to Mrs. Sherne.

Laguna, City Discuss Use Of Grounds

The improvement of school grounds for recreation purposes was discussed at a study session of the Laguna Salada School Board in Pacifica last Tuesday.

Members of the City Council and the Park, Beach and Recreation Commission attended the meeting.

At present, an agreement exists between the district and the city for the joint use of school grounds. Costs are shared through a community service fund.

The city has requested that a number of school playfields be developed with "skinned" (dirt) infields.

Eldred Lokker of the Park, Beach and Recreation Commission stated that the administration is opposed to infields at Ortega School although the city is maintaining that area.

District trustees had objected previously to the infields because, they said, the fields would be of too permanent a nature. Later, trustees decided to judge each installation on its own merit.

After review of the proposed infield project, the trustees said they would reach a decision before the City Council's meeting next week.

Air Force Accepting Veterans

The United States Air Force has announced plans to accept an increased number of applications from men with prior military service.

Re-enlistment of these men in the Air Force generally has been held to a minimum and limited to a few critical career fields, an Air Force spokesman said.

He added that experienced and skilled men are needed to fill key positions in a wide variety of fields throughout the Air Force.

In each enlistment, the individual will know his specific assignment and the rank he will hold before he re-enlists. Often, this rank will be the same as the rank held upon his last discharge.

B'Nai Israel Sets Service In New Home

First services in Congregation B'nai Israel's new temple at 1575 Annie Street in Colma will be held at 8:30 p.m. Friday.

Construction of the temple began June 1.

Rabbi Solomon Shore will officiate at the inaugural service. Guest cantor will be Julius Blackman.

Together with Rabbi Shore, Cantor Blackman also will conduct the services for the observance of the Jewish High Holy Days this month.

Paul Benson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Benson of 42 Alpine Avenue, Daly City, will become the first Bar Mitzvah in the new temple

A service will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday. The boy also will participate in the first service Friday night.

The temple replaces a 56-year-old congregation home at 67 Los Banos Street in Daly City that was razed to make way for the Los Banos-Knowles Expressway early this year.

In the interim, the congregation met in an old house at the Annie Street site and in other temples.

The new building will serve members of the Conservative Jewish Faith who live in the North County and on the Peninsula.

The congregation is conducting a membership drive and interested persons may call PL 6-8644 for information.

Sermon Topic Is Announced

"Little Member, Big Problem," will be the topic of a sermon to be given by the Rev. A. David Donnelly at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday at Westside Baptist Church.

The Sunday School will begin its regular fall program at 9:45 a.m. Two adult classes and classes for other ages are conducted each Sunday.

College Cost Jumps; No Relief Seen

The way things are going, there soon will be only two price ranges for a college education—"expensive" and "Holy Cow!"

Tuition and fees are climbing in a leap-frog sort of fashion. The college that stands pat this year is fairly sure to raise the tab next time around.

The biggest bargain in higher education today probably is to be found in the California junior colleges tuition-free and located within 86 per cent of the state's college-age population.

The California state university system and the state colleges also are tuition-free, but student fees average about $150 a year. Too, attending one of the state colleges or university branches most often involves the added expense of living away from home.

The State University of New York, which comprises all state-supported four-year institutions of higher learning except City University, also is tuition-free for students in most fields of study.

At most other state institutions across the country, the annual tuition runs from $100 to $300 for residents of the state, with a heavy surcharge for out-of-state students.

Board and room at the state institutions generally falls in the $600-$800 bracket.

Private Colleges Highest

Private colleges and universities have the highest tuitions and fees.

The Life Insurance Management Association listed 1,045 institutions in its report "College Costs: 1964-65."

Topping the list were three private girls schools on the east coast: Bennington College, Bennington, Vt., $2,450 total tuition and fees; Finch College, New York City, $2,250 and Sarah Lawrence College, Bronxville, N. Y., $2,236.

The most expensive co-education college was Goddard College, Plainfield, Vt., $2,232.

This point should be emphasized: all colleges set aside funds for scholarships and grants. In effect, they charge a sliding scale of tuitions, depending on the ability-to-pay of the student and his parents.

Moreover, tuition and fees are only part of the cost of a college education.

In addition to room and board there are such items as clothing, travel to and from home, social life, and a host of other things that can add up to a big bill.

Many students work part of their way through college, and some find it possible to work their way completely through by carrying a reduced work load and attending a low-tuition institution.

There's only one generality that is safe to make: if you have any children ready for college, don't put off sending them in hopes of a break in prices. It's just not going to get any cheaper.

Let Experts Plan Menus For Nutrition

With children back in school, noontime squeals of delight are once again a familiar sound as youngsters open their lunchboxes as if they were presents under a Christmas tree.

Boys and girls love to find delicious surprises to show their friends. Sometimes they even swap an apple for an orange, or a piece of cake for a slice of pie.

To help busy homemakers plan the mid-day school meal, professional nutritionists suggest protein-rich meat or cheese sandwiches on whole wheat bread, raw carrot and an oatmeal cookie. The big surprise that will bring on the squeals of delight in this lunch can be found in the vacuum bottle. It is creamy Banana Milk Shake made with fresh ripe bananas and velvetized evaporated milk. The smooth rich drink is perfect nourishment for growing boys and girls. And you can be sure it is one lunchbox treat they won't trade away.

To make four servings of Banana Milk Shake combine:

2 cups evaporated milk
2 cups water
4 med. ripe bananas, mashed
¼ cup sugar

Mix evaporated milk and water; slowly add mixture to bananas. Shake in jar or beat well before serving.

Modern Teaching Tools Can't Replace Books

You can have educational television, teaching machines, team teaching foreign language labs, the very latest in science equipment, and all the host of new teaching tools.

But, educators agree, if you don't have books, your entire educational program is crippled.

That means reference books, text books and library books.

A cross-section of elementary-school teachers was polled last spring on what they would buy if they had a million dollars to spend on their school systems.

The most frequently mentioned item was books.

Betty Shaw of Gloucester, vMass., had a typical comment:

"I'd have a library right in this little two-room school. It's books that children learn from —good books."

The teacher poll pointed up two facts: Books are all-important, but there aren't enough of them in most public schools.

The U. S. Office of Education made a survey during the 1962-63 school year of libraries in public school systems with an enrollment of 150 pupils or more.

Not Enough Libraries

The statistics are grim—but they would be grimmer still if systems with fewer than 150 pupils had been included. It is estimated that during the survey year there were half a million pupils in such schools.

In the systems covered by the survey:

—9.6 million children attend public schools where there are no centralized school libraries. Of these, 9 million are in the elementary grades, where learning to read and enjoying it is the keystone of all further education.

—34,270 public schools — 41 per cent of the total — have no school libraries. This comprises 56 per cent of the elementary schools, 3 per cent of the secondary schools, and 10 per cent of the combined elementary-secondary schools.

The Office of Education study showed that the libraries of less than 18 per cent of the nation's two-year junior colleges met the minimum standard of 20,000 volumes recommended by the American Library Association.

Less than half the nation's four-year colleges met the minimum standard of 50,000 volumes for 600 full-time students or less, 10,000 volumes for each additional 200 full-time students.

According to the American Library Association, the public fares no better than the students.

ALA said that in 1961, 18 million Americans had no library service available, and 110 million had inadequate service. ALA defined inadequate as "offering limited outdated book collections by libraries that are under-staffed, ill-housed and open for only a few hours a week."

Librarians and educators agree that a good school library should provide 10 books per pupil enrolled, one librarian to every 300 pupils, and an annual expenditure of $4-$6 per pupil for books.

But, the Office of Education survey showed:

—Many schools provide only two or three books per pupil. Even schools with libraries have only about 6.2 books per pupil.

—In the elementary schools, there is only one professionally trained librarian to every 3,588 pupils.

Auditions Due

The music department at College of Notre Dame-Belmont will begin auditions for participation in the late afternoon music course, piano repertoire and performance, on Monday and Tuesday, September 13 and 14. The course is under the instruction of two outstanding pianists, Thomas LaRatta and Laura Nicolaisen. Students must be auditioned and register by September 15.

Piano performance and repertoire is a recently added afternoon course open to the public with the objective of training the students in performance arts. It develops critical faculties, broadening knowledge of piano literature, and developing concepts of programming.

The class will meet September 15 through December 1 for seven sessions. Consent of the instructor is required as indicated by an audition. To arrange auditions call before Monday, September 13.

Half of All Americans Are Attending School

WASHINGTON — It's fantastic but true — half of all Americans are going to school.

Of the estimated total population of 195 million, 97.6 million are engaged in furthering their education, formally or informally.

According to the best estimates available there are:

—53 million elementary and secondary schools.

—5.3 million in colleges, universities and junior colleges.

—26 million taking correspondence courses.

—4 million enrolled in extension division courses and programs offered by colleges and universities.

—2 million members of the armed forces taking courses which will be valuable to them in civilian life after they leave the service.

—600,000 youngsters in preschool programs such as "Operation Headstart."

—400,000 persons, primarily high school dropouts, studying and working in the Jobs Corps and in programs sponsored by the Manpower Training and Development Act.

There is, of course, some duplication in the figures. A serviceman, for instance, may be counted twice if the courses he is taking are by correspondence.

Education Is Business

Whatever the exact percentage, the figures prove that education is the nation's biggest business, and getting bigger every year.

There are a number of reasons for the increased interest in education by people of all ages.

Perhaps the single biggest reason is that in an era of exploding scientific and technological knowledge, muscle power is going out of style. More than ever before in history, education is a prime prerequisite for getting and holding a job.

Another reason is that the U. S. population has been getting younger every year. On July 1, 1964, 46 per cent of the population was under age 25, and 42 per cent was under age 21.

The median age of all Americans was 28.5 years in 1963, compared to 30.2 in 1950 and an estimated 25.9 in 1975. Median is almost the same as average in this case — it means there are as many under that age as over it.

Another reason that Americans are turning to education is the increased leisure time available, resulting from shorter work weeks and earlier retirement.

The percentage of Americans furthering their education is almost certain to rise in the years ahead.

Children will be going to school at an earlier age with the spread of pre-school programs.

More Time in School

They will be staying longer, too. A survey of 13,000 college freshmen by the Educational Testing Service showed that 6 of every 10 planned to go to professional or graduate school after college.

In 1962-63, about 500 institutions of higher learning were unable to fill 1,306 teaching vacancies for which funds had been budgeted.

Even with all the problems, however, the college president was probably right when he said:

"It can scarcely be more prophetic to contemplate the higher education of the masses today than it was to look forward to the common education of the masses a few centuries ago.

"The latter nears its realization; endeavor now begins to reach toward the former."

What he said is even more pertinent today than it was when Charles R. Van Hise, then president of the University of Wisconsin, made that remark just 50 years ago.

But it is more than just counting those who start early and stay late.

According to Dr. William H. Hartwig of the University of Texas, today's youngsters face the prospect of going back to school every few years throughout their working lives.

Science and technology are finding new knowledge so fast, he says, that what is taught in hhe classroom today is obsolete tomorrow.

This is true of technicians, whose jobs simply disappear. It also is true of professional men and women who will fall by the wayside if they don't keep apace of new development in the field.

As an example: Every new discovery in the field of medicine means a "homework assignment" for thousands of doctors.

Teachers Needed

For once in his harried and harassed life, today's educator has a bigger problem than money in trying to do his job. Money he can find, teachers he can't.

It's one thing, for instance, for the government to set up a project like "Operation Headstart" to give 600,000 disadvantaged children a better chance of succeeding in school.

It's something else again to find the thousands of qualified teachers needed to make the opration asuccess.

The state colleges and universities can expand and expand to meet the demand for college entrance. Their big problem is to find the professors to take over the classrooms.

Many New Learning Aids Ready

What's new in education? Teaching aids are. Audio-visual aids, television, electronic teaching machines, illuminated ceilings, blackboards that aren't black . . . and carpeting on the floor.

Our knowledge doubles every ten years . . . more knowledge is available, and more has to be taught to the upcoming generations. To help students learn about our shrinking world and the expanding space age . . . a new and different environment is required.

Flexible classrooms and teaching aids are the answer. The modern classroom is designed for multi-use . . . for regular classes, as a lecture hall, a lab and for small groups of seminar size.

The "black" blackboard has also disappeared . . . and taking its place are soft pastel-colored chalkboards that match the decor of the room. Teaching machines, both electronic and mechanical have been added to allow children to progress at their own learning rates, and to free the teacher to spend more time with the slower groups. Closed circuit television is used for lectures to several classes and audio-visual aids are used in great abundance. Added to these is one other important teaching aid . . . carpeting on the floor.

Several years ago, leading educators started to install carpeting in schools to investigate its effectiveness in the educational field. The first advantage noticed was the immediate drop in over-all sounds and the control of acoustics.

Printmaker Has Exhibit

College of Notre Dame-Belmont is currently exhibiting, in the dining hall gallery, the lithographs, woodcuts, and linoleum prints of Bill Ritchie, local printmaker. A number of the prints are variations on a tree theme increasingly condensed and ab- in which the artist has freely explored the subject in an increasingly condensed and abstract manner.

Ritchie has studied at Central Washington State College and San Jose State College. He has instructed in drawing at College of Notre Dame-Belmont summer session.

The exhibit will continue through September. It is open to the public daily from 1 to 5.

Polio Shots Due Within 2 Weeks

Physicians of the Bay Area S.O.S. Committee today reminded parents of the law which requires every child to have at least one dose of polio vaccine within two weeks after the start of school. Any child not having his vaccine will be excluded from classes.

The law applies to all grades from kindergarten through the last year of high school. It excludes only those students who have a written statement from parents that the vaccine is contrary to their beliefs or from a physician that the vaccine at this time is medically inadvisable. After the first dose of vaccine, the law allows 60 days for completion of the series. Schools will furnish students with forms to be signed by parents and returned stating when the vaccine was received.

Although polio is the only immunization required by law, physicians of health departments and medical societies in the Bay Area are urging immunization against five other communcable diseases as well: Smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, measles, and whooping cough. The immunization campaign — called S.O.S. for Stamp Out Sickness — is being conducted in San Francisco, San Mateo, Marin, Alameda, Contra Costa, Napa, Sonoma and Santa Clara Counties.

Vaccines are available for all six diseases, and are highly effective. The vaccines can be obtained from family physicians or from county health facilities.

One (1) tax anticipation note of the SAN MATEO CITY SCHOOL DISTRICT of the County of San Mateo, State of California, numbered 1, of the denomination of $1,500,000.00 dated the date of delivery thereof to the purchaser and due and payable on DECEMBER 17th, 1965, to bearer.

Said tax anticipation note to be sold by the said Board of Supervisors at the request of at least two-thirds of the members of the Governing Board of said SAN MATEO CITY SCHOOL DISTRICT and with the approval of the Controller and Treasurer of the said County of San Mateo.

Said note will bear interest at a rate to be stated on the face thereof, not to exceed five per cent (5%) per annum, as shall be named by the bidder, and such interest shall be paid on said note at the maturity thereof. Each bidder shall specify in his bid the rate of interest he desires said note to bear and the premium offered, if any. The said note will be sold and awarded to the bidder or bidders offering to purchase the same at the lowest rate or rates of interest computed from the date of said note, aforesaid, to the 17th day of DECEMBER, 1965, or whose bid represents the lowest net cost to the said SAN MATEO CITY SCHOOL DISTRICT. Guaranteed Homes Opens S.S.F. Office

An office of Guaranteed Homes, largest "on-your-lot" builder of homes and apartment units in California, has opened at 1027 Airport Boulevard in South San Francisco.

Don Spencer, general manager of the office, said South San Francisco was selected because of promising economic and population growth.

"We feel that South San Francisco and the surrounding community offers a wonderful potential and has a need for moderately priced, well-constructed homes and apartment units, he said.

"Our homes are constructed on individual lots. We are not a tract type operation. Single or multiple-zoned lot owners may construct one or more of our two, three or four-bedroom, one or two-bath homes or apartments for prices from $6,195 to $12,999."

'Lucky Value Day' Planned

A SPECIAL one-day promotion, the first of its kind, will be staged by Westlake Shopping Center merchants Thursday, September 16.

The event, "Lucky Value Day," is a treasure hunt — of sorts — for shoppers, according to Gene Perry, advertising director of the center. This is how it will work:

Free tickets will be given to all Westlake shoppers both next Wednesday and Thursday.

Winning ticket numbers and a "Lucky Value" item to which they correspond will be posted in center stores.

For example, one store is offering a winning shopper an Arvin, portable four-four-speed phonograph and radio combination, regularly priced at $34.95, for the low "Lucky Value" price of only $3.33.

THE SPECIAL promotion will be open only to shoppers 18 years of age and older.

Participating stores include: W. T. Grant, Sue Scott, Westalke Stationers, Bloom's Shoes, Kay Jewelers, Adeline Bakery, King Norman's Toys, Seymour Paints, Mr. H. Luggage, Westlake Music Store, Penney's, Karl's Shoes, The Fashion, Woolworth's, Fern Warner Maternity and Sterling Furniture.

Crown Drug, Walgreen Drugs, Don's T.V., Auto-Torium, H. Liebes, Westlake Hardware, Junior Boot Shop, Leed's Shoes, Jay-Vee, Elsa Marge Fashions, Doug Mack, Photographer, Pauson's Men's Shop, Westlake Liquors, and New England Shop.

31st Branch To Be Opened

American Savings and Loan Association of California will open its thirty-first branch Monday in the Northgate Shopping Center, north of San Rafael in Marin County.

The Association operates a branch at 5 Southgate Avenue in the Westlake Shopping Center in Daly City.

The branch will be the first the company has opened in Marin.

George F. Collins, senior vice president in charge of branch operations, said: "We are pleased and gratified to have been granted the charter to open a new savings facility in Marin County."

CHANGE STOLEN

Bert Thomas of 45 Northridge Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that $2 in coin and an inter-com system had been stolen from his camper truck, parked in front of his house.

BUSINESS

J. C. Penney Reports New First Half Profit Record

The J. C. Penney Company, operator of nearly 1,700 department stores throughout the United States, reported record first half and second quarter earnings.

Sales for both periods also were at peaks, according to figures issued by chairman William M. Batten and President Ray H. Jordan.

The company operates a store in the Westlake Shopping Center.

Net earnings for the six months ended July 31 rose to $26,915,805 from $23,522,150 in the corresponding period last year—an increase o $3,393,655 or 14.4 per cent.

The net income was equal to $1.08 a share on 24,947,126 shares of common stock outstanding on July 31 compared with 94 cents a share for the first half of 1964 on the 24,-932,183 shares then outstanding.

For the six months, sales were up 10.2 per cent over a year ago. Six month volume this year reached $941,453,680 against $854,455,056 a year ago—an increase of $86,998,624.

Sales for the second quarter totaled $507,699,088 compared with $459,642,529 last year—an increase of $48,056,559 or 10.5 per cent.

Bay Building Shows Boost

Building permits issued for non-residential construction in San Francisco amounted to almost $31-million in July, helping to boost the total valuation for the nine-county San Francisco-Oakland Bay Area 23 per cent above last month's figure, according to the San Francisco Field Office of the U.S. Department of Commerce.

The total value of all permits for the nine-county area was $131.6 million, 23 per cent above last month's $106.9 million and 1 per cent over July a year ago ($130.3 million).

The month's valuation of $131.6 million consisted of non-residential in the amount of $51.6 million; residential, $62.9 million; alterations, additions and repairs, $17.1 million.

Three Stores Add a Night

Three more stores have added Thursday to their night hours schedule, Westlake Shopping Center officials announced today.

W. T. Grant, The Fashion and Woolworth's will remain open Thursday nights, in addition to Wednesday and Friday nights.

Other stores already observing the Thursday night opening schedule are: Adeline Bakery, Compton's, Westlake Food Center, See's Candies, Penney's, Walgreen's, Crown Drug, Westlake Medical Pharmacy, Westlake Liquors, Leed's Town and Country Liquors, Westlake Delicatessen and Jayvee.

$978 Loss in Theft Reported

A San Jose woman reported to Daly City police last week that someone had stolen her purse and some jewelry, valued at a total of $978, while she was shopping in a store in the Westlake Shopping Center.

Delia Huertas told investigators the loss included a lady's wrist watch with 22 diamonds, valued at $700; a diamond band, valued at $250 and a wallet containing $28.

2 Cars Elude Police Posse In N. County

Despite the efforts of three North County police departments two autos spotted drag racing on Hillside Boulevard escaped capture early Saturday morning in a three and a half mile chase that reached speeds of over a 100 miles per hour.

Lieut. Charles Terry and Officer Roger Austin of Daly City were driving north on Hillside Boulevard when they noticed two 1960 model cars speed off southward from Gambetta Street with a squeal of rubber.

The pair wheeled their patrol car around and took off after the vehicles. When one auto turned off Gambetta Street, the two officers continued on down Hillside Boulevard towards South San Francisco after the second.

A radio call was made to alert police in Broadmoor and South San Francisco. Although a Broadmoor patrol car joined the chase, the fleeing driver turned off on Evergreen Avenue before reaching a road block set up by South San Francisco officers at Chestnut Avenue.

The two officers said when the car turned onto Evergreen in a screeching maneuver, they were unable to make the turn safely because of their high speed and lost the car despite a check in the Sunshine Gardens area by patrolmen of the three cities.

Officers said the closest they came in their pursuit was about a block and a half behind the speeding vehicle at the beginning of the chase, and the other auto outdistanced them after that. They were unable to obtain a license number. They said it appeared there was just a driver in each of the cars.
